TECHNOLOGY AND AN AGING POPULATION

Search   [Search apps...]   Font-size [Medium ▾]   English 中文

This website could give you guidelines of some popular applications and websites, as well as technologies information related to the senior citizens.

- 🏠 Home
- Facebook
- Twitter
- Google Chrome
- Wechat
- Weibo
- Baidu
- Research Result

Guidelines for this Website

Following is an introduction about how to use the standard function of this website.

Firstly, on the top of this website, there are three buttons and a text column. You could zoom out or in the word-size by click on "Font-size" button; you could switch between English and Chinese by clicking "English" and "中文"; you could search in this web by input in the text area and press "enter" button on your keyboard.

Then, there are four sessions on the left side. You could access a different column by clicking on its name. The first one is Home, which will lead you to here, the guidance for this website; the second one contains three parts - Facebook, Twitter and Google Chrome, which are popular application in English-speaking countries; the third one contains - WeChat, Weibo and Baidu, which are more prevalent in China. You could choose those sections by the nation. Finally, Research Results part gathers information online about technology and an ageing population topic.

All in all, hoping you feel this website is helpful!